

Dear _____ :

On _____, you denied my application for a license to carry a concealed weapon. Your denial notification stated that I failed to provide a sufficient statement of “good cause” for a license, but did not explain what specific aspect of your department’s published “good cause” policy I failed to meet, as required by California Penal Code § 26202, which states:

If the licensing authority determines that good cause does not exist, the notice shall inform the applicant that the request for a license has been denied and shall state the reason from the department's published policy, described in Section 26160, as to why the determination was made.

I hereby request that you provide me such written notice at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely,
